

Bev Visser - October updateView this email in your browserA Fond Farewell

My last days in Greece were so special!

Its amazing how God provided for all that was needed during my final weeks in Athens. A family purchased all my furniture and didn't need it until the end of August. That meant I could stay in my apartment until the end of my lease!

The director of Helping Hands bought my car and graciously let me use it until the end of August. I then spent the last few days with my friend and team mate, Ruth. God's abundant provision!

My team also hosted a farewell party for me. This was such a wonderful evening! There were snacks, a delicious meal, sweets, and a time of reminiscing and prayer. I was given a photo book containing written blessings from each team member and a series of pictures spanning my 4+ years on the team. All in a pink cover!!! Such a wonderful gift that I will treasure always!

Future Plans

Lola (of One Collective UK) and her family spent three weeks in Athens in August. We had a wonderful time getting to know each other. We visited Corinth, wandered near the Acropolis, had a meal near the beach, and dinner a few times at Ruth's. It has become very clear that God is calling me to join Lola and help build the newly-forming ministry in Cowley, England. While Lola has a long term vision for ministry in Cowley that has many facets, we would initially begin by being part of the ASLAN project - the Anti-Slavery Alliance Network.

Additional Support Needed

Before I can leave for my new role in England, I need an additional $1,200 in monthly support. Would you join me in praying for God's provision?
